

POLIO CAMPAIGN
NEAR $3,800; IS

Approximately $3,800 was realized during the recent campaign to raise money for the Adams County Infantile Paralysis Fund, reports from various chairmen disclosed Tuesday evening at a report meeting held in the Hotel Gettysburg.

While no final figures were available pending the complete turning in of funds from outlying sections and the presentation of some promised donations, officials of the fund estimated that the amount would be one of the largest sums ever collected by the society during an annual drive.

The amount was already larger than the $3,700 collected last year, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, fund chairman, said at the meeting.

Ninth In State

R. W. Jones, a representative of the state infantile paralysis fund, told the group that Adams county stood ninth among the counties of the state in amount collected last year for the drive. One half of the money collected each year remains in Adams county for work among those suffering from infantile paralysis here while the remainder goes to the National Infantile Paralysis foundation for research work and maintenance of national hospitals for treatment of the disease.

Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, Littlestown, was praised at the meeting Tuesday for turning in what was described as the best report of any section. She secured $928 from 108 contributors in the Littlestown area. Unable to personally contact the contributors she raised the money by letters sent out to various persons and organizations.

A number of additional sponsors were announced Tuesday evening including the Annie Danner club, the Friendly Circle class of Christ Lutheran church, Aspers, Benderville Methodist church, Flohr's Lutheran church, St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley, St. John's Reformed church, Cashtown; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Donaldson, and L. U. Collins and son.

March of Dimes contributors from a number of schools were also announced. They included Littlestown Public schools, $47.62; Littlestown Parochial school, $6; Arendtsville high school, $5.58; Arendtsville grade school, $10.07; Biglerville public schools, $41.25; Valley Grove, Sarah Staub, teacher, $2.65; Blandberry, Mrs. Calvin Leer, $2.10; Valley, Anna Althoff, $2.50; Heidlersburg, Jean Walsh, $5.50; Delone Catholic high $20; McSherrystown Catholic, $16.10; New Oxford public, $20.20; New Oxford parochial, $6.76; Green Ridge, Ruth Deatrick, $4; Little Tolt school Gettysburg, Mrs. Margaret Howard, $3.15; Mt. Richard Eisenhart, Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger, Mrs. Ross Koons, Mrs. Fred Stough, Mrs. Emma Grove, Mrs. Ann Rhoads and Mrs. Miriam Zepp.

SOROPTIMISTS
HOLD MEETING

Due to a lack of quorum the monthly board meeting of the Soroptimist club was not held on Tuesday evening but the regular business meeting of the club was held at Hotel Eberhart.

The group voted $5 to the Near East Foundation and $5 to the Committee on Colored Church Work. Mrs. Clyde Daley, post-war activities chairman, reported that during the month two packages of food had been sent to Norway and two to France. A package of clothing is now being prepared for Norway and enough food materials have been contributed by members for four or five additional packages which will be mailed every week as permitted by the authorities.

The region's project for education for mental health was turned over to Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger, welfare chairman, and other local groups will be asked to join in the discussion and study of this topic. The regional Spring Conference will be held at York on April 12 and 13.

Mrs. Fred Slegal, Social Activities chairman, reported that a formal Soroptimist dinner will be given by the club on February 25 when husbands and men friends of members will be entertained. An invitation was extended to the club by the Phi Mu Sorority to attend their Fashion show February 15.

BLACK WALNUT
DISTRICT OVER
TOP FOR SCOUTS

The Black Walnut district went over the top today in its drive to raise $11,595 as its share of the $100,000 being secured in York and Adams counties to build a new camp for the 3,000 boys scouts in the two counties.

Donations in the district totaled $11,859 up to noon today, or $264 more than the quota assigned. The district, which includes Gettysburg and western Adams county, is the first of the eight districts in the two counties to exceed its goal.

Reports today showed that Idaville-Gardners has joined the list of district communities to top its local goal. Its quota was $350. Collections there by a committee headed by Alfred Delp total $369.

Collections in the two counties now total $69,184.20.

ITALIAN KIDDIES
THANK JR. RED
CROSS FOR GIFTS

"Ai bambini americani. Il vostro pensiero d'inviarci un dono così gradito possiamo ricambiarlo soltanto con mille ringraziamenti e col ricordo affettuoso dell vostro gentilezza. Classe II mista Borgata del Gordiana Roma."

With these words the students of the second grade of the Borgata del Gordiana school in Rome, Italy, thanked the students of Adams county for their work in the Junior Red Cross, Mrs. F. Elizabeth Pennington, acting executive secretary of the county Junior Red Cross, found out today.

The letter translated from the Italian states: "Dear American children: We are very grateful for your gift and thank you a thousand times for your kindness. Affectionately yours."

The letter was forwarded to the county Junior Red Cross by the American National Red Cross upon receipt of the check for $400 sent by the county group to National Red Cross as its share of the amount donated by children throughout the country to the Junior Red Cross. The sum will be credited to the National Children's Fund to aid youngsters in the U. S. and the rest of the world who are in need.

Consider Correspondence Plan

A letter received from Miss Helen Avett, Junior Red Cross correspondent, asked Mrs. Pennington to "Please express our sincere appreciation to the boys and girls of Adams county for this donation. Through the medium of this generous contribution they are helping to meet vital needs of other boys and girls. As you know, allocations from this fund have been used to send education and health to children in countries devastated by war."

Mrs. Pennington also announced that an attempt will be made to interest a number of county high school groups in joining the international correspondence program of the Junior Red Cross. Under the program the student members of a school chapter make a book outlining activities about their school and community. The book is then forwarded to a similar group overseas which in turn sends back a book on their activities, customs and habits. A number of county schools conducted such a program a few years ago.

Another letter was also received by Mrs. Pennington which stated, "I bambini della Prima maschia C. comossi, ungrano sentimamente i bambini della Croce Bossa Giovannile che, con squisitezza d'animi, ci hanno voluto ricordare. Parricini Giulio." Translated from the Italian the letter written by Giulio Parricini from Ciro Menotti school at Rome, Italy, states: "The children of Grade IC for boys thank the children of the Red Cross for the presents which they sent."

JUDGE SHEELY
PRAISES ELKS AT RULERS' DINNER

Judge W. C. Sheely paid tribute to the Gettysburg lodge of Elks as a leader in community affairs during an address given Tuesday evening at a banquet at the lodge home in honor of the past exalted rulers.

Approximately 300 members of the lodge attended with George Bushman, exalted ruler, presiding as toastmaster.

Judge Sheely, son of the late W. C. Sheely, first exalted ruler of the local lodge, said the leadership of the organization could be credited in a large part to the efforts of the exalted rulers. He mentioned the cardinal ideals of the Elks—charity, brotherly love, justice and fidelity—stressing the brotherly love theme which is based on all men being created equal.

H. Earl Pitzer, a past exalted ruler of the lodge now serving a five-year term as trustee of the Pennsylvania Elks State association, spoke briefly.

The following past exalted rulers attended and were introduced by Mr. Bushman: Paul A. Martin, Charles W. Myers, J. A. Holtzworth, C. C. Bream, John W. Brehm, E. L. Myers, H. E. Bumbaugh, Joseph E. Codori, Lawrence E. Oylor, Rufus H. Bushman, Scott L. Smith, Donald H. Hershey, Edgar K. Markley, H. T. Jennings, George L. Baugher, H. Earl Pitzer, Herbert L. Oylor and Arthur R. Buehler.

THE EARLIEST DRAFT OF THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

"There are still extant five autograph copies of the Gettysburg Address written by Abraham Lincoln. Three of these manuscripts were penned after the speech was presented, the other two were composed before the delivery of the oration. There is considerable difference of opinion relative to which one of these two pre-dedication copies was the earliest draft of the Gettysburg Address. Both of these original documents are now preserved in the Library of Congress. One we shall call the Battlefield Copy, because it is believed by historians to have been in Lincoln's possession at the time the speech was delivered. The other copy we have chosen to designate as the Preliminary Draft because all Lincoln students are agreed it was written before the President gave his address."

"The preponderance of evidence against the generally accepted tradition that the President first wrote the address while traveling on a railroad train enroute to the ceremonies removes from consideration the time and place elements associated with this untenable story. However, the tradition that Lincoln did some writing in connection with the address after he reached the home of Judge Wills at Gettysburg seems to have been confirmed by a display of dependable testimony. Just how much of the text of the address, if any, was first put down on paper by Mr. Lincoln after reaching Gettysburg is a question more to the point."

"The Battlefield Copy consisting of two different sheets, in reality, comprises two separate documents. One was written on executive mansion stationery, the other on a wide ruled paper. One was evidently prepared in Washington, the other at Gettysburg, and this implies that they were written at different times."

"Evidently the first sheet, carefully written in ink was (Please turn to Page 2)

LODGE MEETING TONIGHT

The Tri-County Association of the Jr. O.U.A.M., consisting of councils in York, Adams and Franklin counties, will meet in Hanover this evening at 8 o'clock as guests of Pride of York County Council, No. 542, in Red Men Hall, 22 Carlisle street, Hanover.

The word of God cannot be destroyed, it cannot be bound, either by the word of a dictator, by national lines, or by the divisions of creed or belief, but "The Living Christ" surmounts all these human obstacles, and lives to become the most potent factor today in a Christianity united and revived as never before in the cause of winning a permanent peace.

This was the message brought by Dr. Martin Niemoeller to 1,200 persons who crowded the Majestic theatre this morning and to an overflow crowd in St. James church and Sunday school gathered to hear the man imprisoned for eight years by Adolf Hitler because his Christian beliefs and teachings were at variance with the spirit of dictatorship. "Pastor" Niemoeller spoke for just an hour to an audience which hung on his every word.

Dr. Wentz In Charge

Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, president of Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, presided and opened the service with the invocation and the first hymn, followed by the Psalm. The seminary choir of 22 voices sang "Beautiful Savior," by Christiansen, and Dr. Wentz introduced Dr. Niemoeller.

Dr. Niemoeller said he felt he was under several handicaps. It was the second time in his life he had spoken in a movie theatre, he said, but "wherever the opportunity is given to preach the gospel, we will do it." He said he was speaking on the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln, whom he characterized as the best known of all American historical figures, but said that in a way he himself had become known all over the world.

"I say this humbly," Dr. Niemoeller added. "I feel a debtor to the Christian people all over the world. I know many Christians have prayed for the persecuted Christians in Germany, and later throughout Central Europe."

The Doom of Hitler

In the third place, Dr. Niemoeller said, he realized he was speaking where Lincoln delivered the Gettysburg Address.

"Against this handicap I know of no means of overcoming only by the fact that I am not going to speak in my own name, but in the name of St. Paul on a topic which he has given, through a pupil of his, to all Christians."

Dr. Niemoeller quoted from the Second Epistle to Timothy, Chapter 2, verses eight and nine: "The Word of God is not bound." "Jesus Christ was raised from the dead," Dr. Niemoeller said. "The word has a new importance in Europe. From the beginning it was the doom of Hitler. He did not believe that Christ was risen from the dead. He looked upon the church as an organization. He thought Jesus Christ was a religious genius who died more than 1,000 years ago, and that His followers were paying homage to something that did not fit in with his philosophy, so he would have to do away with it. He succeeded totally in this job, but he overlooked the important fact that Jesus Christ was raised from the dead and was in Hitler's time as living a person and as influential, yes, more so, than Hitler himself.

Killed Millions But Not Christ

Hitler had conquered the Christian church, but he had not conquered Christ whom he thought of as a dead man. He had to fight a living Lord and a living fellowship. Christ was in the midst of the people and the people confessed Christ. There was a war and a struggle, but Christ could not be killed. Hitler was never able to kill Jesus Christ, even though he killed 6,000,000 men and women. It was a real confessing church which believed what Christ said and went on fighting. There were no big organizations, but when two or three gathered there was Jesus Christ.

"They took away the pastors by banning and imprisoning them. Was the church silent? Those who were scattered went abroad everywhere preaching. Pastors from Bavaria and the Rhineland came to East Prussia, and East Prussians went to Bavaria and the Rhineland. They took care of the people who had no pastors. Hitler could not silence the voice of Christ, because Christ was risen from the dead.

Returned His Bible

"If there was no voice, Christ found a human voice. There were services of intercession daily. Seventy to 80 per cent of the services were preached by laymen. Then when the Gestapo came and took them, and put them in the front lines, the living voice made itself heard through the housewives.

"Not even in prisons and concentration camps was the voice silenced, where Hitler seemed to be the absolute master."

Dr. Niemoeller said he was stripped of everything, even his Bible. (Please Turn to Page 7)

GOP OBSERVES LINCOLN DAY

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Republican party rededicated itself today to the principles of its first President, Abraham Lincoln, and sent its orators far and wide to start beating the victory drums for 1948.

Scores of Lincoln Day dinners—part of more than 600 being held over a period of ten days—were scheduled tonight in nearly all states except the south.

Most of the party's potential Presidential candidates next year are on the speaking programs—Governor Thomas E. Dewey at Albany; Senator Robert A. Taft at Charleston, W. Va.; Harold E. Stassen at New York city; Senator John W. Bricker at Toledo, and Gov. Dwight H. Green at Springfield, Ill.

Stassen planned to speak on a world economic policy, Taft and Bricker on domestic issues.

It is said that Bricker may announce soon his withdrawal from the 1948 Presidential picture in favor of his fellow Ohioan, Taft.

The Lincoln Day rallies are the counterpart to the Democratic party's Jefferson Day dinners coming up in April. Both are designed to raise funds for the next Presidential campaign.

Would Replace Jobless Pay Act

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Legislation to repeal the 1936 Unemployment Compensation Act and replace it with one patterned after the New York law was proposed for Pennsylvania today.

Two western Pennsylvania Democratic senators proposed the change which would substitute a liberalized contribution rate credit plan for the present experience rating system. Additionally, the bill would provide in certain cases for a rebate of employer contributions to the fund.

It would set up an "effective day" system under which benefits would be paid after a worker had accumulated four or more days of total unemployment in any week and provide for payments at the rate of $21 for four effective days instead of the present $20 a week and fix a maximum of 104 such days in any year instead of the present limit of 20 weeks.

Production Rises With Temperatures

Pittsburgh, Feb. 12 (AP)—Industrial production, sharply curtailed because of a gas shortage resulting from the cold wave, was climbing today along with rising temperatures.

The three gas companies serving western Pennsylvania, Equitable, Peoples and Manufacturers Light and Heat, announced yesterday they were resuming service.

Unemployment, which had reached 50,000 in the Pittsburgh district, began dwindling last night and most of the furloughed workers were expected back on the job by today.

The National Forest Reservation Commission, the government's buying agency, has approved for purchase 114,444 acres of land in 22 states at a cost of $536,682. The approved purchases by states included: Pennsylvania 5,097 acres at $15,915.

STILL VACANCY ON LIQUOR BD.

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—The State Liquor Control board, its membership changed by the resignation and subsequent death of W. Searith Stuart, today awaited arrival of its new member, Charles C. McGovern, of Pittsburgh.

Stuart, ill since he became 60 last September, died at his Carlisle home of a heart condition late yesterday, some eight hours after Governor Duff announced acceptance of his resignation as a board member. He had been named to the $10,000 place in 1943.

Funeral services will be held for Stuart Friday.

McGovern, former Allegheny county commissioner and a referee of the State Unemployment Compensation Board of Review, was selected a few hours after Stuart's resignation and his appointment was immediately confirmed in the State Senate.

The action keeps two persons on the liquor board and permits official action on purchases and enforcement matters as soon as McGovern takes his oath. The other member is Board Chairman Frederick T. Gelder.

Still vacant, however, is a third place on the board, which operates the state's $200,000,000 liquor monopoly, but Duff told newsmen yesterday he plans to fill that place promptly. It has been vacant since the death of William S. Rial, Greensburg, in 1941.

Mentioned for that post have been William A. Baird, retired Cambridge Springs hotel operator, and Samuel S. Lewis, of York, former lieutenant governor.

BONUS, PRIMARY TOP CALENDAR

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Proposals for a soldier bonus and restoration of the traditional fall primary for elections received priority today in the Pennsylvania legislature.

The Senate and House, which adjourned after brief sessions yesterday, placed measures on the two proposals in position for action early next week.

Meanwhile, legislative leaders continued to delve into the state's vexing financial problems, holding in abeyance any decisions on the questions of better pay for teachers, expansion of mental hospitals and other betterments proposed by Governor Duff.

Republican leaders said another meeting will be held promptly by the special Senate-House committee surveying state financial income and outgo at the request of the governor. Until that question is settled, they agreed, nothing will be done on the issue of taxes.

In the House, meanwhile, committees reported favorably a total of 17 measures, including the bonus measure, but put off initial action on them until 9 p. m. next Monday under House rules.

The bonus measure, sponsored by Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster), calls for the payment of allowances to World War Two veterans at the rate of $10 a month for service in this country and $15 a month for overseas up to a maximum of $500 a veteran.

DOGS HAVE DAY IN GARDEN SHOW

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—Every dog has his day, and this is the one for 2,598 purebred pooches entered in the 71st annual show of the Westminster Kennel club at Madison Square Garden.

There were 161 different breeds represented today in this oldest and largest of all the canine carnivals, which will be climaxed late tomorrow night with selection of the best dog in the show.

Many of dogdom's aristocrats spent last night in the Garden basement, where their barking and yapping not only transformed the big sports emporium into the world's most elaborate dog house but promised to make the affair a real howling success.

A notable absentee this year is Ch. Hetherington Model Rhythm, a little Fox Terrier that walked off with top honors at the 1946 show. A grandmother with many of her offspring furnishing her most serious competition, Model Rhythm has since been retired to rest on her laurels.

In fact, only three of the six finalists and 21 of the 101 breed winners from last year have returned to try again for the best-in-show award they missed after surviving the earlier rounds.

Resume Purchases Of Forest Lands

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—The government announced today that it is resuming the purchase of privately owned land for expansion of the national forest system. Such land buying was halted during the war.

The approved purchases by states included: Pennsylvania 5,097 acres at $15,915.

supplemented originally by a second sheet of the same character as the last line of the first sheet ends abruptly, in the middle of a sentence. We may feel certain that the President finished this sentence on another sheet of paper and also wrote the few remaining lines which concluded the address. This second sheet however is not now known to be in existence. Whether it was inadvertently left at Washington or destroyed after having been re-written at Gettysburg it is impossible to say, but certain evidence points toward the former supposition.

"It is not difficult to associate the first sheet with the second sheet written in pencil because the last three words in ink on the first sheet are crossed out with a pencil and a new transition clause is written in pencil above the marked out words. Then Mr. Lincoln completed the address with a pencil on the wide ruled paper. In this way the two sheets were incorporated into what we have called the Battlefield Copy. It should also be observed that Lincoln underlined with pencil the word 'did' written in ink on the first page. Undoubtedly this was done to serve as an attention director that it should be given an emphasis.

"Possibly now we may draw the following conclusions that may harmonize several traditions referring indirectly to the Battlefield Copy. It is almost universally accepted that the first sheet was penned by Lincoln in Washington and taken with him to Gettysburg. It is also generally accepted that he wrote the second sheet with pencil at Gettysburg and as Nicolay states went almost directly from the writing to the place where the ceremonies were to be held. The tradition also has wide circulation that Lincoln inadvertently left some paper associated with the address in Washington. If this was the second written page of the original that was mislaid we can well understand why he found it necessary to re-write all of the second page after reaching Gettysburg. If the second page were available carefully written out in ink, probably he would have made the slight correction necessary and retained the original.

"This deduction can be made with reference to the primacy of the Battlefield Copy: If the pencil portion of it was written just before Lincoln went to the ceremonies that part at least could not be considered as the earliest writing in view of the fact that we have another complete copy drafted before the address was given. If the first page of the Battlefield Copy written with ink is regarded as the earliest copy then the Preliminary Draft would have been transcribed sometime between the writing of the ink and pencil versions of the Battlefield Copy. This leads us to consider the possibility of the Preliminary Draft having been the earliest writing."

An aggressive and scrappy Hershey high basketball team pulled a surprise Tuesday evening and thereby avenged a previous setback by the Maroons by scoring a one-sided 42-29 victory here in a South Penn conference game.

The Maroons trailed from start to finish and were particularly unimpressive in the first half when they were limited to a pair of field goals.

A chart of shots taken from the field by the Maroons reveals only 13 goals were made in 77 shots. Three of 10 fouls were converted.

Hershey employed a fast moving zone defense which forced the locals to shoot mostly from long range and most of the shots fell wide of their mark.

The first period was particularly hard fought and little scoring was done. Balocchi landed a goal and foul before Cole netted a long toss after nearly four minutes had elapsed. Gasper connected on a long stab and the scoring was completed for the period on a foul by Wenger to give the visitors a 6-2 margin at the quarter.

Hershey Zooms Ahead
Fair opened the second period with a long shot after 25 seconds had elapsed but from then on it was all Hershey. Gaspari, Wenger and Balocchi looped goals to give the Trojans an 18-4 lead at half time.

Coach Forney's lads came roaring back in the third period and threatened to pull the game from the fire. Hess poured four goals through the hoop while Cole, Fair and Westerhahl contributed twin pointers which cut the visitors' margin to 25-19 after six minutes. Hershey recovered nicely to take a 29-19 lead at the quarter on goals by Gaspari and Gaspari and then added five straight points in the final period before Westerhahl landed a goal and foul. The outcome was never in doubt thereafter with Balocchi and Wolfgang sewing up the decision by accounting for five goals.

Scrubs Defeated
The defeat practically eliminated the Maroons from all chances of taking the second half title in the South Penn race.

The Hershey jayvees made it a perfect evening for the visitors by winning the preliminary 34-28. Hershey secured an early margin and maintained it throughout.

On Friday evening the Maroons play at Carlisle.

Bullets Entertain Bucknell Tonight

Bucknell's Thundering Herd will invade the Eddie Plank gymnasium this evening for a cage game with the Gettysburg college Bullets and all indications point to a thrilling battle.

Although the Bisons will be favorites, the Bream-men can be counted upon to give their old rivals a stiff struggle the whole way. Bucknell is smarting after three straight defeats while the Bullets will be seeking to rebound from the drubbing received at the hands of Muhlenberg.

The preliminary game also promises to offer more excitement than usual. The Bison jayvees have compiled an enviable record and will be bent on handing the unbeaten Bullet reserves their first setback. The preliminary will start at 7 o'clock.

BIGLER QUINT IN LOOP LEAD

Gene Haas' Biglerville high boys took over sole possession of first place in the Adams county league by walloping New Oxford high, 54-23 Tuesday evening at Biglerville.

The Cannons hopped off to an 11-4 margin in the first period and were never threatened. A well-balanced attack in which every Biglerville participant scored was led by Ecker with 12 tallies.

Coach Sam Ehlman's Biglerville girls remained but one game behind Arendtsville by gaining a 38-23 triumph in the first game of the evening. At half time the Cannons held an 18-7 advantage. Lupp netted 17 points for the winners.

UNBEATEN DUKES NOT BEST TEAM, COACH DECLARES

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Pittsburgh, Feb. 12 (AP) — The Golden Dukes of Duquesne university, unbeaten in 15 basketball games this season, may provide Chick Davies with his first all-victorious quintet in 20 years of college coaching — but the bald-headed mentor doesn't rate the team his best.

The so-called "Iron Dukes" are Davies' personal choice for the honor. The Iron Dukes, playing game after game without a substitution, went through three regular seasons (1938-39, 1939-40, 1940-41) with only seven defeats in 55 games. They lost out in the finals of both the NCAA eastern division competition and the New York Invitational tournament after losing only to Indiana university in '39-40. The following season the Iron Dukes won 17 and lost two (De Paul and Ohio State), but found Colorado a stumbling block in the first round of the New York tourney.

Could Be As Good
Davies, who at the age of 30 returned to high school in 1930 and then went on to earn a master's degree from Duquesne, concedes that his current team "could be as good as the Iron Dukes."

"But so far they haven't shown the court savvy to go with their height and shooting ability," he said — even though the quintet is one of two undefeated teams in the nation today. West Virginia is the other.

The tallest man on the Iron Dukes was six-foot, two-inch Lou Kasperik. The key man on the 1946-47 squad is Joe Camie, six-foot-four giant. Three other players range up to six feet five.

The Golden Dukes have six more games to play before they can start looking for a post-season tournament bid. The toughest opposition promises to be Valparaiso next Monday, and Georgetown university twice — Feb. 28 here and March 4 at Washington.

ARENDTSVILLE BOYS DEFEATED

Arendtsville slipped out of a tie for first place in the county basketball league Tuesday evening when Boiling Springs high pulled a surprise by noosing out the Apple Pickers 39-32 at Arendtsville.

The score was tied several times and midway in the final period was deadlocked at 32-32 but the visitors tallied seven straight points to clinch the verdict. Failure to score consistently from the foul line proved disastrous to Arendtsville's team. The Arendtsville girls remained unbeaten in league play by winning the preliminary tilt in easy fashion 24-9. Fourteen points in the first round made it easy for Coach Russ Kane's charges.

American Skaters Bothered By Cold

Stockholm, Feb. 12 (AP)—A hard-working group of American figure skaters are getting in their practice licks at Stockholm stadium in preparation for the world championships starting Thursday and continuing through Sunday.

The U. S. Competitors, first to arrive, find that the present wave of extreme cold makes training on the outdoor rink a hardship, as many of them are accustomed to the comparative comfort of indoor arenas.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Plus XI Crowned Amid Great Pomp: Rome, Feb. 13.—Plus XI was crowned Pope in the basilica of St. Peter's Sunday amid scenes of pomp and enthusiasm and in the presence of princes and dignitaries of the church, the diplomatic representatives of foreign countries, members of the Roman aristocracy and a vast assemblage filling the great structure to the very doors.

The ancient custom was carried out with impressive ceremonies, and the newly elected pontiff now occupies the throne of the first pope reported crowned, Leo XIII, who reigned from 1878 to 1903.

Edison's 75th Birthday: (By Associated Press) Washington, Feb. 11.—President Harding sent a letter of congratulation to Thomas A. Edison today on the occasion of the inventor's seventy-fifth birthday.

"I hope that you will live many more years to give the world the happiness you have so generously given in the past," the President wrote.

Takes Over Store of H. B. Bender: Negotiations for the sale of the stock in the furniture store conducted on Baltimore street here for the past twenty-five years by H. B. Bender were completed Wednesday evening between Mr. Bender and R. W. Wentz, who will conduct the establishment in the future.

Mr. Wentz, who for the past thirteen years was head office man for the Reaser Furniture company, has had a wide experience in the manufacture of furniture.

Mr. Bender will continue to conduct his undertaking establishment in the same building. Mr. Bender announced also that his son, J. Milton Bender, who recently was graduated from the Eckles School for Undertakers in Philadelphia, would be associated with him, under the firm name of H. B. Bender and Son, funeral directors.

Elected Pope by 38 Votes: London, Feb. 6.—Cardinal Ratti was elected pope by receiving 38 votes in the sacred college, says a Central news dispatch from Rome this afternoon.

Russia Strewn with Skeletons: Ufa, Volga Region, Russia, Feb. 6.—When the snows melt next spring the Russian steppes will be strewn with skeletons.

Among the skeletons of cattle and camels there will be the bones of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children who fell exhausted in their quest for bread, who lived the simple lives their peasant ancestors lived for centuries and had little conception of the political upheaval that made this famine more terrible than that of 1891.

Farmers Return to School Days:

Twenty-five farmers from upper Adams county returned to their school days Tuesday morning and attended the opening session of the three-day school which has been arranged for them at the Arendtsville Vocational school. The school was held under the supervision of the county Farm Bureau. G. W. Koser, vice president of the bureau, took the role of teacher at the opening session and informed the farmers that the subjects which would be discussed during the session would be the same as taught at State College.

Supervisors in Annual Meeting: The annual convention of township supervisors was held Wednesday at the Photoplay Theatre, Baltimore street, with forty-eight supervisors and forty-five auditors answering to the roll call.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the selection of the following: President, D. C. Aspers; first vice president, Calvin Lady; second vice president, Edward Tyson; secretary, P. A. T. Bower; treasurer, Samuel Lott; delegates to the first annual state convention; D. C. Aspers, Henry Myers and C. P. Musselman.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE SENSE OF WONDER
I hope that I shall never lose my abiding sense of wonder. If I do, then surely I shall awaken to the fact that I have a lost youth!

The same wonder that appeared to me as a boy remains with me as a man. The night sky, the nourishing power of the sunlight, the rotation of the seasons, the planting of seeds, and their rise from the good earth with their buds and blooms and intricate formation and coloring of leaves, always fill me with wonder. Every flower to me is a miracle. The brilliant feathering of many of our birds, especially of our tropic varieties, breeds wonder in our mind, the moment that we look upon them. The peacock has a right to be proud and vain over the inheritance of beauty that he owns. Even his gorgeous garment is a thing of wonder.

People who carry this sense of wonder about with them, all through their lives, never could be tempted into a pessimistic society. No wonder the Psalmist exclaimed as he looked into the heavens at night, "What is man?" In humility he looked with wonder upon the universe and then speculated upon the importance of mere man in such a creation.

We look, and meditate, as we view great planes now plying the sky, thousands of feet above the earth—a thing that scoffers once said was but an idle and foolish dream. We wonder about the human voice traveling across the oceans, through nothing but the air, and we wonder in like manner as we take our telephone and talk as intimately to our friend as though he were a few feet from us. We wonder about the songs of birds and the antics of animals at play. Wonder and delight are the companions of childhood, and those who retain them into their maturer years never really die old. They merely take up a new trek, initiated by their birth! Emphasizing immortality.

When we cease to wonder, we cease growth, becoming troublesome drones in a world of activity, enterprise and opportunity. It is this sense of wonder that inspires the inventor, the scientist, the geologist, and the astronomer. And it makes healthier, happier individuals of us all!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Beauty."

Just Folks

The Poet of the People
LINCOLN

What would Lincoln do or say
Were he here with us today?
Just what cause would be his choice?
To what pleading lend his voice?
What condemn, and what propose?
Vain such questions. No one knows.

But we do know this: that he
Like the man he was, would be:
Patient, gentle, wise and brave;
Quiet; in grave moments, grave;
Calm when bitter quarrels start;
Tender with the sorrowing heart.

Lincoln, were he here today,
Humble, though in power, would say:
And as God has given him light,
Faithful, as he saw the right.
Were he here, then all would see
Lincoln as he used to be.

ECONOMY GROUP URGES RAISES FOR TEACHERS

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (P)—A temporary cost-of-living increase in teachers' salaries "to meet present emergency conditions and prevent undue hardship" was the recommendation of the Pennsylvania Economy League Tuesday.

The league, which described itself as a "non-political, citizen-supervised organization for research and counsel," also urged an immediate survey of education in the commonwealth "with a view to establishing basic education policies in harmony with today's needs."

"There has been so much confusion and irrelevance in the discussions of teachers' pay that efforts should be made to gather the actual facts," the league stated.

"Everybody is agreed that adequate salaries should be paid to competent teachers. No one seems agreed, however, as to what is an adequate salary, let alone what is a competent teacher x x x it is difficult to say that any salary scale established now would be a fair one a year from now."

The league noted over $423,000,000 was spent on public schools in Pennsylvania in the 1941-43 fiscal period, 24 per cent of it coming from the state government, making education "the largest item of expenditure in the state government."

Asserting "the time has arrived for a thorough-going reevaluation of the program of public education," the league said "the people are entitled to know whether the organization and administration of the school system, particularly at the local level, has kept pace with changing needs and with increases in cost."

YORK NO HOLDOUT

Mount Defeats St. Francis Team

(By The Associated Press)

Eleven Pennsylvania college basketball teams saw action last night in contests in and out of the state, with most of the competition centering around western area quintets.

Four Keystone state fives played in a doubleheader attraction at the Pittsburgh Gardens—Slippery Rock Teachers came from behind in the third quarter to defeat California Teachers, 52-42, in the opener, while Indiana Teachers won easily over Alliance college, 58-39, in the nightcap.

Waynesburg college's trip to Buckhannon, W. Va., proved unlucky—and the Pennsylvanians lost 56-52 to West Virginia Wesleyan.

In other games, Lebanon Valley defeated Elizabethtown, 52-32, holding the state's leading scorer, Frankie Keath, to a measly eight markers; Mansfield Teachers edged Scranton University, 45-40; Youngstown walloped Geneva, 63-52; Shippensburg Teachers rallied in the final period to win over Shepherd (W. Va.), 54-45, and Mt. St. Mary's of Emmitsburg overcame a first-half deficit to trounce St. Francis of Loretto, 62-50.

TOLD PIRATES HIS DECISION

New York, Feb. 12 (P)—Now that one phase of the Hank Greenberg mystery has been cleared up, baseball fans today were wondering what step the big slugger would take next.

The 36-year-old veteran disclosed for the first time yesterday that he had informed the Pittsburgh management from the start that he did not want to play with the National league club.

Hank explained in an interview that he had maintained public silence on the matter at the express request of the Pittsburgh management and said it was only the angry reaction of Pirate fans to his announcement of Sunday that made him open up.

York Springs Farmer To Be Honored Friday As Top Tomato Grower In Penna.

One of Adams county's foremost tomato growers will be honored Friday night by the C. H. Musselman company at Biglerville for the high tomato production on his farm last year.

The farmer, Parker A. Lerew, of York Springs, secured an average yield of 25.77 tons per acre from his 6.73 acres planted in tomatoes. The yield was the highest recorded for more than two-acre plots in the state.

To the praise heaped on Mr. Lerew's head by the State Vegetable Growers association and the Musselman company, M. T. Hartman, Adams county farm agent, added another today: "Not only is Parker one of the county's better farmers—but he has an additional blessing, a splendid son who is just as good a farmer as his dad," Hartman said in commenting on the Lerew farm production.

Plan Dinner Meeting—Lerew and his son, Paul, used their knowledge of orchard work to some extent in producing the huge quantities of tomatoes. While other farmers who were unable to use spray measures against the blight that swept the state tomato crop lost nearly everything the Lerews simply applied orchard spray practices to their tomato crop and came out with the largest production in their history.

Lerew will be one of a number of Musselman growers to be honored at the annual tomato growers meeting and dinner which will be held in the Musselman cafeteria at Biglerville Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

The meeting was described today by Musselman officials as "one of the most important meetings we have had in years. With the blight cutting production tremendously on many farms last year, the information that will be brought on how to fight diseases will be tremendously important." J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist; Dr. L. O. Weaver, extension plant pathologist from State College, and County Agent Hartman are to be speakers while Mrs. Daniel Knittle, Carlisle, will entertain with readings. C. G. Bucher will be toastmaster.

Got Prize in 1945—While records are available only back to 1943, Lerew has been a consistently good producer. In 1945 he was awarded a war bond by the Musselman company for the quality of the 12½ tons per acre produced on his farm.

HUTTON'S GROCERY

Bendersville — Penna.

In 1944 he won two prizes, second for quantity and first in quality from the Musselman company for his 14 tons per acre and in 1943 he produced 18½ tons per acre and won a second in quantity prize from the Musselman company.

The Lerews were in good company during the past year with a number of Adams county growers producing ten tons per acre or better from their tomato fields. Of the 199 farmers in Pennsylvania who entered the ten-ton class during the year, 37, the largest number for any one county, were from Adams county.

And that number, 37, may not include all of the countians who made the goal of ten-ton production, County Agent M. T. Hartman said today.

Cites Two Reasons—Two reasons were given by Hartman today for Adams county predominance in tomato production—a predominance that came despite the fact that 60 per cent of the crop on the more than 3,000 acres devoted to tomatoes in Adams county was wiped out by the blight.

The knowledge of many county farmers of spray measures, gained from their orchard practice, and the fact that those farmers without spray equipment often were able to borrow equipment from their orchard-owning neighbors did much to help those in the county who could get sprays on in time to lick the blight. The unusually long growing season made the huge yields possible for those who beat the blight. With no frost until November, many farmers were still producing tomatoes long after the factories were through with their tomato canning schedules and were unable to use them.

The story of the Lerew's production is told by J. O. Dutt, vegetable gardening extension specialist from State college, discloses that good practices were used throughout on the farm—including using an airplane to dust the tomato plants.

86 Per Cent Were No. 1—The Lerews produced 346,870 pounds or 173.4 tons of tomatoes on 6.73 acres of land, for an average yield of 25.77 tons per acre. They had an average of 86 per cent U. S. number 1's, 13 per cent number 2's and one per cent culls. They had the highest percentage of Number 1's among the leading growers in the state. They received $6,531.21 for the tomatoes or an average of $970.43 per acre.

Parker Lerew claims the production is a result of cultural practices and his experience with growing tomatoes as a canning crop for the last 12 years. The field in which the tomatoes were grown slopes to the east and is well drained. The soil contains a good amount of organic material according to Mr. Dutt.

During 1945 the field had been planted to corn and it was in sod in 1944. Before plowing, 12 tons of manure per acre was applied. Manure had also been used before the corn was planted in 1945. Plowing was done in March at which time 750 pounds per acre of a 3-12-6 fertilizer was plowed down. The seed bed was thoroughly worked and another 750 pounds of 3-12-6 fertilizer was drilled in before setting the plants. An additional 300 pounds of the same fertilizer was applied at the time of the last cultivation as a side dressing. This made a total of 1,800 pounds of fertilizer per acre on the field.

Used Rutgers Plants—The variety grown was Rutgers, Dutt said, and the plants were grown by the Musselman company, pulled from the plant bed and planted in the field the same day. Field planting was done from May 22 to 25. The plants were set deeply with a transplant and a commercial starter solution was applied at this time. The rows were four feet apart and (Please Turn to Page 6)

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

SPORTSMEN LIBERATE 300 COTTONTAILS

More than 300 rabbits have been placed in the general area around Wrensville, Bendersville, Aspers and Gardners by the Sportsmen's Association of Upper Adams County Community, officials of the organization announced today.

Twenty-seven dozen rabbits were stocked about two weeks ago and two dozen more were placed Tuesday afternoon and evening. Another dozen is to be placed today.

The committee in charge of the rabbit placing will report on its activities Thursday evening at a regular meeting of the association to be held at the Aspers Fire hall at 7:30 o'clock. After the report a discussion is to be held on the number and type of birds to be placed by the sportsmen's association.

How many birds will be placed will depend upon the amount of money available and the money available will depend upon the membership in the organization, officers said today. At the last meeting of the organization 160 members had been signed and the group is seeking to have each member bring a new member for Thursday night's session.

The most rapidly growing sportsman's organization in the western part of the county, the group began its activities only a little over a month ago.

The bunnies placed so far have been evenly distributed over the entire area covered by the association, officers said today. Groups of sportsmen from Bendersville, Aspers, Wrensville and Gardners station took the rabbits to various spots in order to get even distribution. Maurice Dugan was chairman for the distribution from Bendersville. On the trip Tuesday he was accompanied by Ernest Ogden, Maurice Baldwin and Donald Garretson. Gerald Taylor headed the Wrensville group. Robert Eisenhart, the Aspers members of the distribution committee and Melvin Breighner and Ed Motter have been in charge of the Gardners Station section distribution.

Buys Planing Mill At Arendtsville

Marshall W. Longenecker, of Arendtsville, has purchased the Arendtsville Planing mill in that community.

The planing mill was started in 1906 by Pius S. Orner who conducted the business until 1945 when he sold out to Irvin C. Wiser. Mr. Wiser in turn sold the business to Mr. Longenecker in December.

Longenecker, who was formerly in the poultry and farm business at Arendtsville has announced plans to continue to operate on the same plans and principles as established by Mr. Orner. The new owner of the mill is married to Isabel Heckenluber. They have two children, Dorothy and Jane Longenecker.

FARM CALENDAR

Manage Poultry Flock—Cull hens closely to keep unprofitable layers moving out of the flock, reminds F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. He also urges early hatching of chicks to get pullets into production when the supply of eggs is lowest and prices highest.

Keep More Bees—More colonies of bees are needed for pollination of fruits, legumes, and other farm crops, according to W. W. Clarke, extension apiculturist of the Pennsylvania State college. Last year the 181,000 colonies in Pennsylvania produced an average of 24 pounds of honey.

Test Left-over Seeds—Vegetable seeds left over from previous garden plantings may do well if planted this spring, says J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. However, if gardeners have any doubt as to their worth, they should test the seeds.

Sharpen Lawn Mower—A sharp lawn mower is needed to keep the lawn well-groomed. Better sharpen and adjust the mower now or get it done by a good mechanic.

Save the Soil—Contour strip-cropping layouts, which save soil from washing away, can be started this spring. Stake out the strips before plowing. F. G. Baner, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college, recommends.

Force New Blooms—Many of the early spring-flowering trees and shrubs will provide cuttings which can be forced into bloom indoors.

Grow Home Gardens—Pennsylvania home gardeners are urged to continue their efforts this year. W. B. Nissley, vegetable extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says that growing of vegetables in home gardens has two main values: reducing the cost of living, and improving the diet.

Order Trees Early—Nursery stock is in low supply, which prompts J. U. Reuf, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, to urge fruit growers to order their trees early. He reminds that selection of varieties should be made to meet the market demands and to return the best profit.

Produce Summer Pasture—Ladino clover and orchard grass are best for producing summer pasture. J. B. R. Dickey, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college, gives the rate of seeding as five pounds of orchard grass and 1 pound of Ladino clover to the acre. Timothy and other clovers may be added.

the plants three and one half feet apart in the row. Very few of the original plants had to be replaced and the result was an almost perfect stand. Dutt reports. Cultivation was started as soon as the plants had a chance to set their roots. The field was cultivated three times during the growing season. Hand weeding was unnecessary.

The field was dusted once and sprayed twice for the control of late blight. The dust was applied by airplane about July 25 and the spray was used with an orchard sprayer during August. An 8-4-100 Bordeaux spray was used. About 500 gallons per acre was applied for the first spray and around 900 gallons for the second spray. A four-nozzle orchard spray gun was used in applying the material. Practically no loss from blight was observed, Dutt added.

The long growing season in Adams county made the county predominate in tomato production throughout the state during 1946, the records of the state Vegetable Growers Association disclose. Headed by Parker Lerew the county growers won five of the twenty awards given out in the state and the county produced seven out of the nine growers who had records of more than 20 tons per acre production.

Only one grower in York county and one in Luzerne could join the list of 20-ton producers with the seven Adams countians.

Tops in production with less than two acres and tops in quality in less than two acres were two mythical titles won by Adams countians, Charles King, York Springs R. 1, produced 27.7 tons per acre on his 1.85 acres of land with 82 per cent being No. 1's. But he did not have enough land in tomatoes to qualify for state honors which go only to those with two or more acres.

Irvin Spangler, Aspers, had 24.71 tons per acre on his 1.16 acre tomato field and produced 93.56 per cent U. S. No. 1's, and Glenn Black, Gettysburg R. 1, had 96 per cent U. S. 1's in the 16.78 tons grown on one acre to lead in quality.

12 Topped 15 Tons

L. E. Lory, York Springs, who came in second in the state contests, had 23.08 tons per acre from his 2.9 acres of land planted in tomatoes. H. W. Sowers, York Springs R. D., produced 22.92 tons per acre on 1.24 acres; Charles King, York Springs R. 1, produced 22.08 tons on 1.94 acres and Harold and Donald King, York Springs R. 1, got 21.83 tons per acre from their 1.93 acres. The records showed the York Springs R. D. area best in the state this past fall for production of tomatoes.

Twelve growers did better than 15 tons per acre. The men who obtained between 15 and 20 tons per acre included Junior E. Taylor, Aspers, 16.37 tons per acre; John Guise, Gardners, 15.6; N. D. Starry, York Springs R. D., 16.98; Paul and Ernest Spertzel, Gardners R. 1, 18.2; William Harbold, York Springs R. 1, 13.05; Grodz Brothers and Day, Gardners R. 1, 15.54; Elmer and Homer Cashman, York Springs R. 2, 15.92; Glenn Black, Gettysburg R. 1, 16.78; Harry Spangler, York Springs R. D., 17.15; Dwight Rinehart, Gettysburg R. 3, 15.56; Paul Pitzer, Biglerville R. D., 15.63 and P. E. Griest, Biglerville R. D., 15.41.

Other Top Producers

Others who produced 10 tons or better included Bruce Beitman,

Gardners R. D., 13.16 tons per acre; John C. Chuck, Biglerville R. D., 11.92; Emory Deardorff, Aspers R. 1, 12.34; Lloyd Garretson, Biglerville R. D., 10; George Golden, Gardners R. D., 13.65; Luther Lady, Arendtsville, 13.01; Dorsey Martz, Biglerville R. D., 13.07; Maurice Pitzer, Aspers R. 1, 14.8; Prickett estate, Biglerville R. D., 11.69; Lloyd Williams, York Springs R. 1, 14.16; L. A. Williams, York Springs R. 1, 12.32; Group Brothers and Day, Gardners R. 1, 14.63 tons; Atlee L. Keefer, York Springs R. 2, 11.48; Donald Brough, York Springs, 12.23; Ira Davis, Gardners, 14.56; Clark Hartman, Biglerville, 10.5; Elmer Hikes, Gardners R. 1, 11.13.

Most of the ten-ton growers sold their tomatoes to four nearby canneries. They included the C. H. Muselman company, the Hanover Canning company, National Fruit Product company and the Adams Apple Products corporation.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Cyril L. Miller, who passed away one year ago, February 12, 1946.

He is not dead, he is just away. With a cheery smile, and a wave of farewell.

God knew he was suffering. And the hills were hard to climb.

So He closed his weary eyelids. And whispered, "Peace be thine."

His beautiful eyes are closed in sleep. His willing hands are still.

His tired feet are resting now. It was his Master's will.

By his Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

upon entering prison, but prevailed upon the commandant of the prison to return his Bible. He climbed, by means of a table and footstool, to the high window in his solitary confinement cell, he said, and saw men exercising in the courtyard. As they passed, he read to them from his Bible. A Roman Catholic mass book was smuggled to him, and for the benefit of a gardener working in the courtyard, who said he was a priest, he read the masses, "so this man got the voice of Jesus Christ as he was accustomed to it."

New Unity Born

Dr. Niemoeller said when he was taken to another concentration camp five Catholic priests became his prison associates, and that he, Dr. Niemoeller, taught Bible lessons, part in Greek and Hebrew. "Every morning, noon and night we prayed the Roman breviary," he said. Just before Christmas, 1944, arrangements were made for a Christmas service, and among 15 associates in prison of all faiths, Dr. Niemoeller officiated at a communion service. British Anglican, Greek Orthodox, Lutheran, Roman, and other creeds were represented.

"The voice of the living Christ had overcome not only prison barriers and national barriers, but the highest barriers of human creeds," the speaker said. "There are no boundaries for His Word. We are no longer the same Christians that we were 20 years ago. The living power of prayer has arisen, and through these prayers for our suffering brethren a new unity of the Spirit of Christ has been born."

The Church Today

"Does not the church have a special responsibility in this day? I am sure that there is no other rebuilding of the peace than by the spirit of the living Christ. The Word is the public responsibility of the church, that the Word may be preached from the hilltops, a spiritual peace acknowledging the Word of Jesus Christ."

The service concluded with prayer, by Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, offering and the anthem, "Open Our Eyes," by the seminary choir.

The service was sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches, the Lutheran World Foundation, and the Gettysburg seminary. Seated on the stage at the theatre were members of the Gettysburg ministerium, and county pastors, as well as members of the seminary choir and the seminary faculty. Dr. Niemoeller was accompanied here by his secretary while in America, Miss Bogis, loaned from the Congregational church, Los Angeles. Dr. Niemoeller is vice president of the Council of the Evangelical Church in Germany. Doctor Niemoeller speaks at the college interfaith club dinner at the Reformed church this evening.
